South Carolina Lutherans Meet In Newberry College

LUTHERAN SYNOD HERE NEXT WEEK

FIRST TIME COLLEGE HAS BEEN HOST.

List of Delegates and Homes Where Entertained—First Session
Tuesday.

Plans are completed for the South Carolina synod of the Lutheran church, which assembles for its ninety-first annual convention at Newberry college next Tuesday, November 9. The first session begins at 1:45 o'clock, and the synod will continue through Friday. The morning sessions begin each day at 8:45, the regular chapel hour. The classes in the college will meet as usual according to schedule, the schedules of the synod and the college classes being so timed as not to interfere with each other. There will, however, be plenty of opportunity for the students to attend the meetings of synod, and also for the synod members to look about the college and study the institution at close range. Indeed, this mutual acquaintance is one of the chief objects sought in having the synod meet in the college halls.

The night meetings will be held in the Lutheran church in town, beginning each night at 7:30 o'clock.

On Friday night the president of synod, Rev. P. E. Monroe, will preach and the communion will be administered. On Wednesday night the sermon on "Christian Education" will be preached by the Rev. George J. Gongaware, D. D., of Charleston. On Thursday night Rev. P. D. Risinger of Lexington will deliver a sermon on "Missions."

It is hoped that the people of Newberry, not only Lutherans, but those of other denominations, will attend the synod, both at the college during the day and at the church at night. Everybody will be most welcome. They will find all the sessions interesting.

The people of Newberry, have very generously opened their homes to the guests of the college, a kindness the college appreciates.

About one hundred visitors will attend the synod. The names of the hosts and hostesses and their guests follow:

Rev. H. A. McCullough, Columbia, at Mr. Wilbur Long's.

Rev. J. W. Oxner and delegate, Cameron at Mr. J. W. Kibler's.

CITY DEMOCRACY MEETS

Nomination by Primary—First Primary
Nov. 16—Executive Committee
Chosen—Assessments Fixed.

The citizens' meeting at council chamber on Tuesday evening was attended by about the usual number. Mr. Otto Klettner was chosen chairman and E. H. Aull secretary of the meeting.

Mr. Klettner, as retiring secretary and treasurer of the executive committee, submitted his report, showing no balance on hand, and the report was adopted.

On motion of Dr. G. B. Cromer it was decided to have the nomination of candidates for mayor and aldermen and school trustees by primary election.

Inasmuch as the club rolls of the State democratic party under the new law are now filed in the files of the clerk of the court and not in the hands of the various ward clubs on motion of C. G. Blease, the secretary of the executive committee was authorized to have copies of these made, the expense to be paid out of funds in the hands of the committee and that these be turned over to the secretaries of the ward clubs, so that new names might be added and that they be official registration of the Democracy of the city.

On motion of Dr. Cromer it was decided that it was not necessary for the voter to sign his name in person to these rolls, but it could be placed on the rolls by any one who knew that he would be entitled to vote in the general election or the voter could so authorize his name placed on the roll.

On motion of Dr. Cromer the primary rules heretofore in force were adopted as the rules to govern this election, such changes to be made by the executive committee as are authorized by the citizens' meeting.

It was decided to have the first primary on Tuesday, November 16, and the second on Tuesday, November 23, and the third, if one is necessary, on Friday, November 26. And that the registration of voters or the signing of the club roll be closed at noon on Thursday, November 11, and that pledges by candidates be not received after noon on Friday, November 12.

The following executive committee was then elected:

Town at Large—O. B. Mayer, O. Klettner.

Ward One—L. I. Epting.

Ward Two—S. J. Derrick.

Ward Three—McK. Hutchinson.

Ward Four—E. H. Aull.

Ward Five—O. S. Goree.

Copies of the club rolls are now being made and in order that the voters who have not registered may know where to find these rolls and thus be able to place their names on them, we give the names of the ward club secretaries to whom the secretary of the city executive committee will turn over the rolls.

Ward One—J. H. Baxter.

Ward Two—W. W. Cromer.

Ward Three—J. B. O'N. Holloway.

Ward Four—C. F. Lathan.

Ward Five—J. Y. Jones.

On motion of Dr. Cromer, the secretary was instructed to write Dr. O. B. Mayer the regrets of the citizens' meeting that he was unable to be present on account of sickness in his family, and the hope that he would soon be able to be out.

Meeting of Executive Committee.

Immediately after the adjournment of the citizens' meeting a meeting of the executive committee was held.

Dr. O. B. Mayer was chosen chairman and E. H. Aull secretary and treasurer.

The rules were amended as directed by the citizens' meeting and the managers appointed. Appointment may be seen in the notice of election published elsewhere.

The assessments were fixed as follows: Mayor, $25; alderman $7; school trustee, $2.

Pledges may be filed with O. Klettner and assessments paid to him or the secretary and treasurer.

NATIONAL CONVENTION FUND

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Half of the $200,000 fund sought to bring the Democratic and Republican national conventions to Chicago has been raised, it was announced today, as a committee of representative business men opened a two weeks campaign to raise another $100,000.

THE IDLER.

The editor told me the other day that a prominent gentleman of this here town told him that I scattered all over the earth in my last article, starting out with the dog ordinance and winding up with Ella Wheeler Wilcox. And then he said a good woman sent word to me that she was so pleased with the article that she hoped I would keep up the good work. Now, that woman knows what she is talking about. The women have good judgment anyway, God bless them, what would we do without them. It would be a dreary and a blank old world and I would want to scatter all over creation then sure enough. I might have scattered, but there was good shot in every aim and it hit the bull's eye every time. I like to change the subject. Didn't some wise guy say that variety was the spice of life, and don't old Webster's dictionary change the subject right along, and isn't it a great book.

Now, about that dog ordinance. It's a curious thing, isn't it? I am afraid that Mayor Wright and the policemen and the city recorder do not read The Herald and News and the Observer, for I am sure we put it up to them right square, but I have not even heard a noise that sounded like the enforcement of that law. But you let a few negroes get out here in the pines somewhere and shoot a few round of craps, and you bet your life they will find them and bring them before the recorder, and you let a negro be found with a pint or two on his person and you bet your life again they will find him and he will appear before the recorder and the fine will be stuck to him. But these dogs—doggone 'em—they can run around here and bite and frighten people just as much as they please and nothing is said about it. And then I am told that you can wager all you want on a game of foot ball or base ball and it is all right. Now I don't pretend to know. I don't mind taking a chance on things myself, and I don't mind taking a glass of beer, and I don't think there is any harm in it, but I do hate to take a chance on being bitten or frightened by a dog.

I read an editorial in an old copy of Leslie's Weekly the other day on "Dress Up," and it had some few paragraphs in it that struck me very forcibly, and though that prominent citizen who accuses me of scattering may think this is scattering, I am going to prove to him that it is not if he will just read what I am writing. Here is one.

"We need to dress up our homes, by teaching the children of this generation the wisdom of their fathers and the modesty of their mothers."

"We need to dress up in our churches, by having a revival of interest in Sunday observance, the Ten Commandments and that model petition which has survived all generations, the Lord's Prayer."

"We need to dress up inside as well as outside and to burnish up all the homely virtues so conspicuous in the past—Truth, Honesty, Fidelity and Sincerity."

"We need to dress up the business man, the banker, the farmer and the bread-winning masses to a realization of their mutual dependence upon each other."

"We need, more than all, to give a good 'dressing' to the impudent intruder and disturber who stands on the street corner preaching the infamous declaration 'No God and No Master.'"

"What a happy world it would be if underneath the outer garments of the well dressed were nurtured the spirit of real service to God and Man."

Now, don't you think these are good and worth handing on to some one else, and don't you think they will have a good influence, even a silent influence, for good? And don't you think it is well that I scattered just a little this time?

And here is one I overlooked. It is as good as the rest:

"We need to dress up in our federal government. We have too many demagogues taking the place of statesmen and making a pitiful exhibition of legislative incapacity."

Yes, and why should we confine it to our federal government. We have 'em in our State government.

And this reminds me of the provision in some of our commission governed town that have the recall about which so much has been said by some folk. And that they are talking about exercising that privilege in Atlanta and Columbia and Spartanburg and possibly some other places. Well, I don't believe in it. Take Columbia. A petition signed by 500 voters can order an election. Seems to me there are about 2,000 voters in Columbia. There is always a dissatisfied minority and with this provision that minority can keep you in a stir and have an election every other week. If there were some provision for long tenure or for life then there might be some reason for having the recall, but with the short term if the people make a mistake let them endure it for the term, unless there should be malfeasance or something criminal. And then there is already a remedy at law. But this thing of a small minority having the right by petition to order an election every time things didn't go to suit them, it's awful, and then you can get any one almost to sign any sort of petition. "We need to dress up our voters when they go to the polls that they may go not as hide-bound partisans, but as patriotic citizens." That's it. Now as for the towns I have named, I don't know anything about them. Their mayors may need the exercise of the recall, but I doubt it. One or two dissatisfied agitators can stir up a powerful row. And get petitions signed galore. No man can please every one. You remember that they did crucify the Perfect Man.

To change the subject, I read in the paper the other day where a man drove to the State fair in his automobile and when he got to Columbia, driving along one of those beautiful wide streets that was not crowded he ran right into a telephone post and snapped it off and smashed up his fine machine, but only slightly injured the occupants of the car. It is stated that he was looking back talking to one of the beautiful and fair occupants on the rear seat. He must have been moving some to snap off a big telephone post, but I mention this simply to call attention to other drivers who are in the habit of looking around and back while they are driving a car. I have seen it right here in Newberry and I imagine that the fellow who drives even a Ford has not much business looking at anything except the road. I imagine also that the temptation to look back when there are some pretty girls on the rear seat is very great, but better resist or take the fair one on the front seat with you.

THE IDLER.

P. S.—I have just read the following little tragedies in the survey column of the State, and they are so good I just can't wait until I can write again to pass them along, and then they are just a little germane to some of the scattering in the above. That fellow that writes these paragraphs gets off some pretty good stuff—I hope he will pardon me for such a designation, but no harm is meant, it is just a way I have of complimenting:
